The background image shows a museum exhibit of ancient Egyptian architecture. Several large, papyrus-bundle columns are visible, some with hieroglyphs. In the center, a large statue of a pharaoh in a nemes and kilt stands on a pedestal. The lighting is warm and focused on the central statue.

Introduction to Ancient Egypt and Its Civilization

with Dr. David Silverman

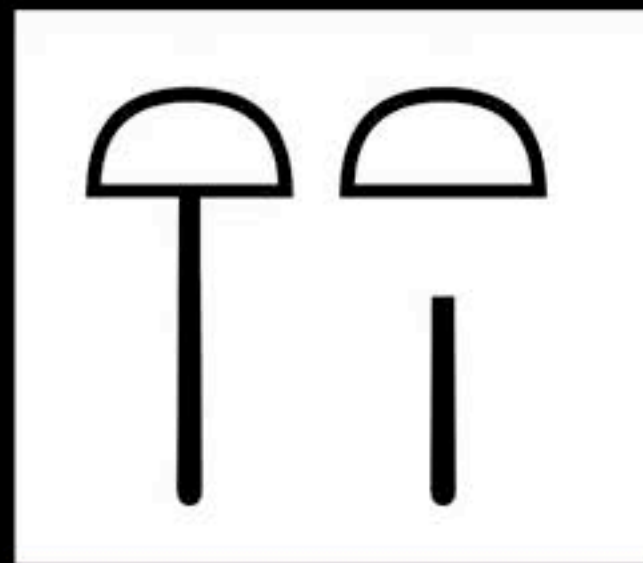

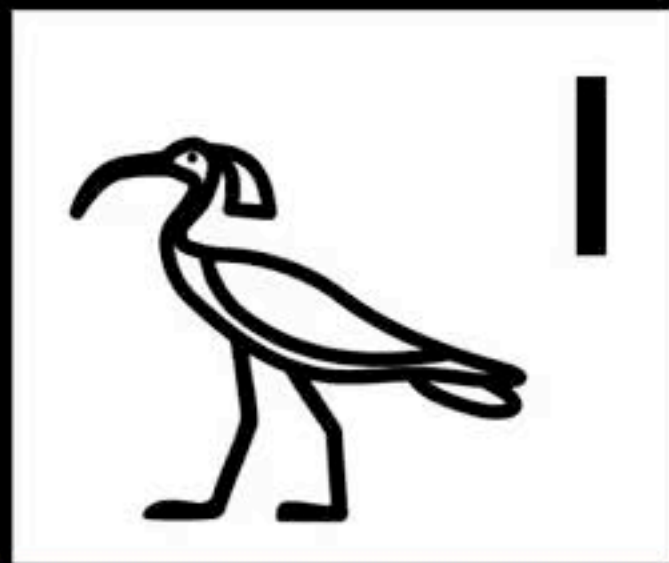

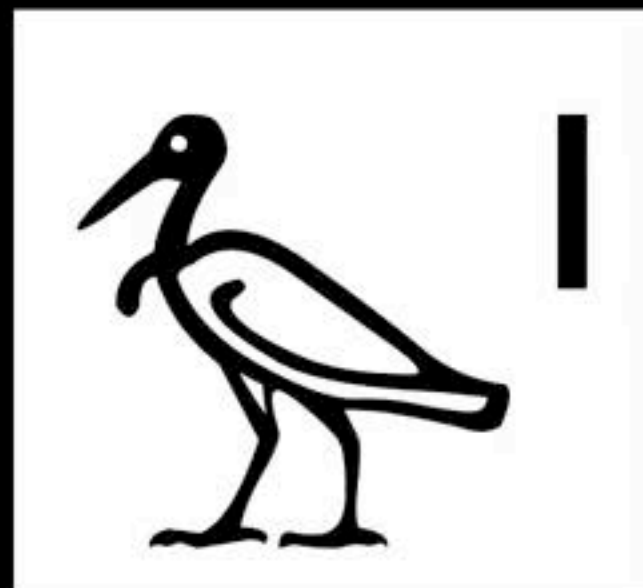

𐍌

djet

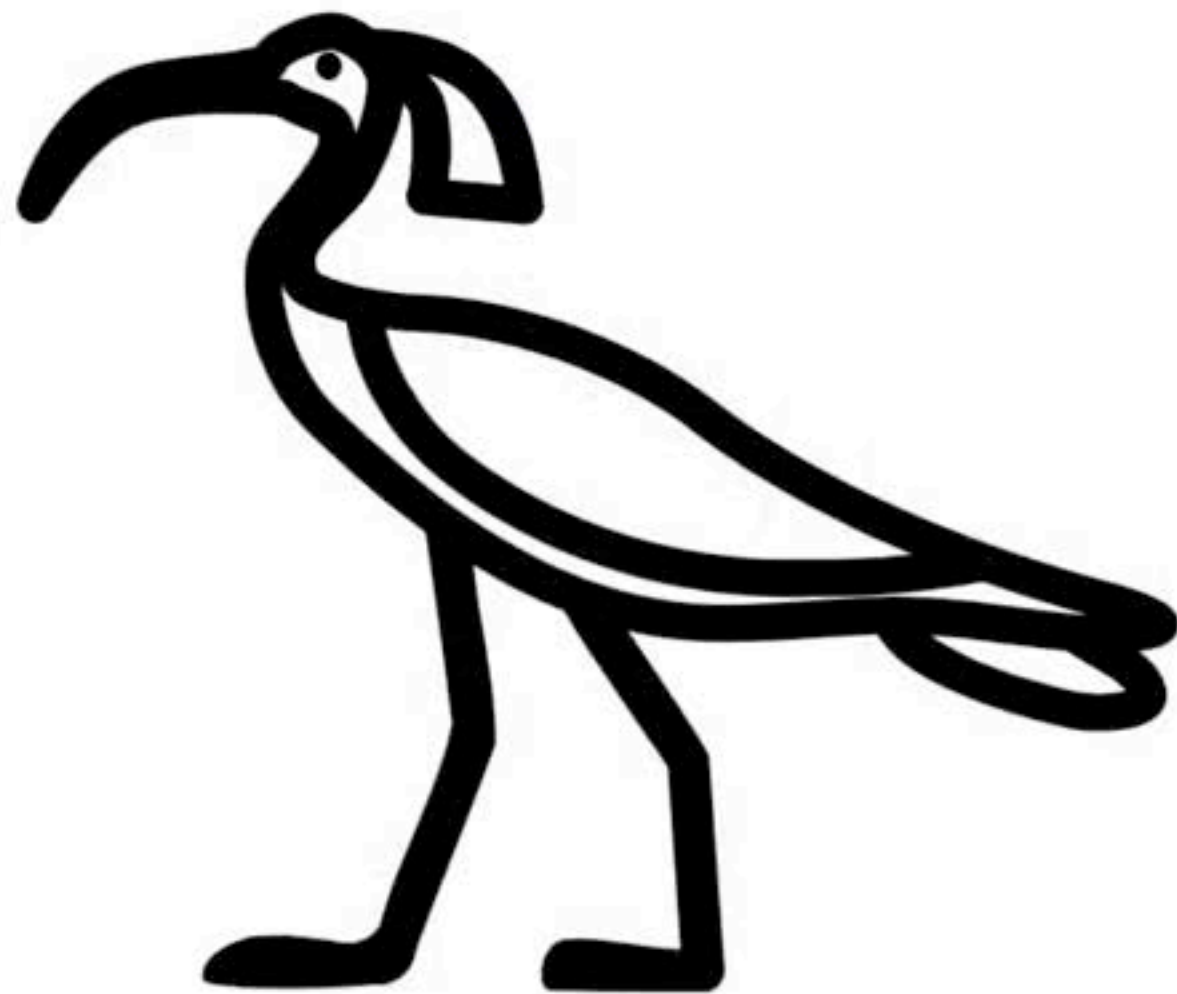

𐍎𐍋

neheh

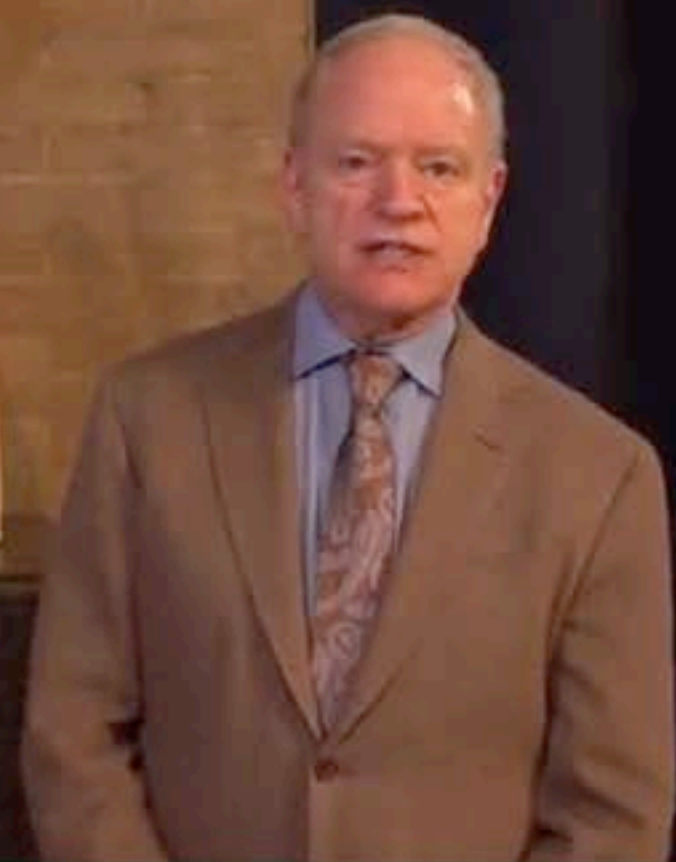

Head of a Pharaoh, Amenhotep III
c. 1370 BC
The Metropolitan Museum of Art
Egyptian Art Department 1000 Fifth Avenue, New York, NY 10028
www.metmuseum.org

Embalming Scene

X-Ray of Brain Removal

Mummy Evisceration

Old Kingdom Canopic Jar

Middle Kingdom Canopic Jar

Book of the Dead on Papyrus

Heart Scarab

